

PALATIAL FLYING TOURBILLON HOURS MINUTES

jacobandco.com

There's no complication more visually arresting than the tourbillon, and ever since its inventor patented it more than 200 years ago, it's been fascinating lovers of fine watchmaking with its beauty and enticing them with its rarity.

The Palatial Flying Tourbillon Hours and Minutes is the tourbillon at its most pure. The dial reveals the fascinating transformation of stored mechanical energy into the intricate whirling of the tourbillon mechanism, while on the back of the watch, a concealed power reserve indication shows the energy remaining in the impressive 100 hour power reserve of this horological purist's fantasy come to life.
